STATEHOOD BILL DEBATE100 Doses $1

SUBSTITUTE TO KEEP OKLAHOMA AND INDIAN TERRITORY SEPARATE

GREEN IS ACQUITTED

Chief Justice Fuller of Supreme Court May Follow Justice Brown's Example and Resign His Office.

Washington, March 9.—Although the Senate session was called an hour earlier than usual yesterday, because discussion of the statehood bill was scheduled, less than a dozen senators were in their seats when Mr. McCormick began his speech on that measure.

The senator made an argument against the consolidation of the territories into fewer states and contended that more western states were necessary to give the agricultural and other trans-Mississippi interests adequate representation in Congress.

He presented a substitute for the statehood bill, creating one state of Oklahoma and another Indian Territory—the latter under the name of Sequoyah, in honor of the Cherokee scholar of that name—and entirely eliminating New Mexico and Arizona.

Mr. Patterson followed Mr. McCormick, and spoke in opposition to the passage of the House measure.

Encouraged by the poll which they have made of the Senate, showing that they have votes enough to adopt the Foraker amendment to the statehood bill, the opponents of the plan to unite the territories of New Mexico and Arizona as one state have decided to go further.

They will today offer an amendment which will provide for the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one state, and of New Mexico and Arizona as two separate states. They say their poll shows that this amendment will be carried. The voting on the statehood bill will begin at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Senator Dean's Intend to Amend Gadsden Treaty.

Washington, D. In the Senate yesterday Mr. Tillman gave notice that as soon as opportunity offers he will address the Senate on the message of the president sent to the Senate Wednesday on the coal inquiry resolution. He referred to the presidential message as a "very remarkable document."

Chief Justice Expected to Follow Brown Into Privates Life.

Washington, March 9.—The announcement that Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court Henry B. Brown will soon retire from the bench, having passed the age of seventy, has revived talk of the early retirement of Chief Justice Fuller, who is seventy-three.

The chief justice and Justice Harlan, callers at the White House yesterday, and as both are eligible for private life, their presence has caused much speculation.

The former is feeble, but Justice Harlan is still vigorous.

Secretary Taft is considered the chief justice's probable successor. His recent statement that he would not accept a residential nomination, is regarded by many as significant.

Moreover many gifts came in by express. Numerous others have since arrived. One was addressed: "Miss Alice Roosevelt, United States of America."

PHYSICIAN INDICTED.

John Sinclair Held in $10,000 for Death of Annie Russell.

Boston, March 9.—Charged with causing the death of Annie Russell, the pretty Charlestown girl, who died in the Beloit hospital, Dr. John Sinclair of No. 161 West Springfield street was arrested yesterday and held in $10,000 for trial.

This was District Attorney John B. Conroy's own case. He handled every detail himself. In twenty minutes from the time that he appeared in the district attorney's office, Dr. Sinclair had an indictment by the grand jury, arrested on a warrant issued by Judge Bell, signed and held in every mail.

Mr. Moran is giving an opinion now how the police acted in the effort to solve the mystery of the girl's death which would be practicable for as many as 48 hours at a time.
